

Joelle Wallach is Composer-in-Residence at Copland House from May 13 to June 3

Joelle Wallach is currently Composer-In-Residence at Copland House - <http://www.coplandhouse.org/composers/now-at-copland-house/>.
She'll be there from May 13 to June 3.

This award is part of the The Copland House Residency program, which was inspired by Copland's exceptional legacy of support for his fellow composers. Based at Copland House, a National Historic Landmark and an Official Project of the federal Save America's Treasures program, the Copland House Residency Awards have earned nationwide recognition and esteem since they began in November 1998.

Composers are invited to reside, one at a time, at Rock Hill, Aaron Copland's restored, longtime New York home. There, they can focus on their creative work, free from the distractions of daily life and other professional responsibilities. As guests of Copland House for three to eight weeks, their meals, housekeeping, local transportation, and other needs are provided for.
